DAILY GAZETTE.

The Difficulty in Maryland.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.

The conflict between the military and civil authorities in Maryland excites much comment. The last reply of the President covers the principal points in the correspondence.

It is dated at the War Department, and directed to Gov. Bradford:

"Sir: Yours of the 31st ult. was received yesterday noon, and since then I have been giving most earnest attention to the subject matter. At my call, Gen. Schenck has attended, and assures me that it is most certain that violence will be used at some of the voting places of election to day, unless prevented by his provost guards.

He says that at some of these places Union voters will not attend at all or run a ticket unless they have some assurance of protection.

The remaining point of your letter is a protest against any person offering a vote

being put to any test not found in the laws of Maryland. This brings us to the difference between Missouri and Maryland, with the same reason in both states. Misouri has by laws provided a test for voters with reference to the present rebellion, while Maryland has not. For example, Gen.

Trimble, captured fighting us at Gettysburg, is without recanting his treason, a loyal voter by the laws of Maryland.

Even General Schenck's order admits him to vote if he recants upon oath. I think that is cheap enough. My order in Missouri, which you approve, and Gen. Schenck's order, reach precisely the same end.

Each assures right voting to all loyal men;

and, as to whether a man is loyal, each allows a man to fix his own oath.

Your suggestion, that nearly all candidates are loyal, I do not think quite meets the case in this struggle for the nation; but I cannot so confidently rely on those whose election may have depended upon disloyal votes. Such men, when elected, may prove

Further Returns.

We select from various sources the following additional returns, which are mainly estimates since the election on the returns already in.

|                    |           |
|--------------------|-----------|

The Legislature.

The Madison Journal says: "The Union majority in the next legislature will be nearly as great as the republican majority in the legislature elected in 1860."

Of the sixteen senators elected, it is probable that only three are copperheads. The senate will therefore stand 22 Union to 11 copperheads, or two to one.

Of the one hundred members composing the assembly, not less than sixty are Union, while it is probable that the number will considerably exceed that. The majority on joint ballot will therefore be something over thirty."

Too Grieved to Talk.

The Monitor has not even a solitary figure of the returns of the election in this state, except a four line paragraph copied from the Chicago Times. When Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Iowa sent in their avowals, it said it felt like taking "a genuine bodily cry," but would reserve its tears for a future occasion. Has the time come yet for the promised crying spell? or does it wait for further aggravation? Come, doleful neighbor, if you have any tears in the reservoir of grief, now is a good time to start them out. Let the flood be genuine and "bodily."

Maryland, Too!

Maryland "keeps time to the music of the Union." All the unconditional Union candidates for congress are elected.

Fond du Lac in Line.

Fond du Lac county gives the state ticket at 800 majority, elects Wheeler, republican, to the senate, and four of the five republican assemblymen. Two years ago, Mitchell, the present senator, was elected by pledge to the republicans, but subsequently went off on the Ryan track. His constituents, as soon as they got a chance at him, let him know very plainly how they regarded him.

Waushara County.

William Blair, Union, elected to the Senate. John Smith, Norman Shultis, and Joel R. Carpenter, Union candidates to the Assembly, elected. One democrat only, William Costigan, elected.

John Hodgson, Union, elected Supervisor at large.

A. D. Hendrickson, Union, elected Superintendent of Public Instruction. Three out of the four district Supervisors, Union men, elected.

Illinois.

The county election returns from Illinois continue to show Union successes. Sangamon, Coles and other counties in the central part of the state, which have hitherto been strongly democratic, now repudiate "the party." This is the result of Vallandighamism, which loyal democrats can't swallow. It is worthy of remark that in the city of Rockford and in Lee county the democrats couldn't raise wild enough to nominate candidates.

The Soldiers, Again!

A telegram from Capt. Griffith gives the vote of the 22d regiment at Murfreesboro. It gives Lewis 438, Palmer 10.

Gen. King, the new minister to Rome, left Milwaukee last night, on his way to that country. He takes his wife and daughter with him, and Robert Chandler as secretary of legation.

This state has gone "ho!" by from 20,000 up to any figure that may be asked. We hope the Jacobins are satisfied. We are. We are in hospital, to-day, with strong convalescing symptoms.—Madison Patriot.

Your sickness is mortal. Neither medicine nor time will save you.

Another Gons!—Rich, the copperhead senator in Dodge county is probably defeated, and W. R. Smith, republican, elected! Copperheadism is fatal.

EXCHANGE OF CONFINEMENTS.—"I regard the nomination of Vallandigham as unfortunate, at this time," said H. L. Palmer, in a speech shortly after the Ohio election. Vallandigham can now return the compliment. He will doubtless think, when he hears the result in Wisconsin, that the nomination of H. L. Palmer was also "unfortunate at this time."

Correspondence of the Gazette.

From the Eighth Regiment.

Headquarters 8th Regt. Wis. Inf. Vol.,
The Black Banner, Wisconsin,
Mississippi, Oct. 26th, 1863.

Editors Editors:—The 8th Wisconsin still lives, as well as our pet, (old Abe for eagle.) We number to-day 431 men for duty; our aggregate present and absent is 597. Our record of events show that we have since leaving Madison traveled by rail 1,819 miles; by steamboat on the Mississippi, Ohio and Tennessee rivers 1,283 miles; marched 1,601 miles; have participated in 18 battles and skirmishes, and think we are good for as much more, and then come home with as many men as some of our regiment profess to have now. I see one correspondent says his regiment has never been in any battle, and one year in the service, and number 65 men for duty. There is a great responsibility resting on some officer's shoulders in that regiment. There is a screw loose there, sure!

We have just returned from an expedition with 12,000 men, under Gen. McPherson, toward Canton, Mississippi. We had severe skirmishing for three days with the enemy, but as usual we occupied all the ground we advertised to when we started. We killed and captured quite a number of the enemy. Our loss was light. We drove the enemy from a strong position with artillery and infantry, and occupied the field during the night after the engagement.

On our return here we got the glorious news from Ohio and other northern states. I wonder what the "blessed martyr" will do now. I suppose he is singing.

For governor of Ohio I never will try, my sympathy with J. F. don't take, and I am doomed to die.

a traitor. We don't see "the disgraced assault upon American rights in the person of Vallandigham culminated in his election as governor of Ohio." I wonder how H. L. Palmer sees it. Mr. Palmer, you are a friend of Val, and all such men are traitors to this government. So says the soldiers, and the soldiers are not fools. They know who are traitors at home. All you men at home must vote for army and navy bills. Palmer and Val, his traitorous friend, never has voted for such bills since the commencement of the war, hence we will bar both out from voting during the war. We want to notify H. L. Palmer that the five dollars a month that the families of volunteers have got is not owing to any exertions on his part. He votes against such bills; the soldiers vote against such men. So will the majority at home. Count us all for Lewis.

I understand the draft commences in Wisconsin to-day. Send along the conscripts. Col. Jefferson is in Wisconsin. He will escort them down. We hear there is a new call for troops. You must all sing "we are coming Father Abraham; three hundred thousand more," and practice what you sing. That's what stops the war, the practicing part. The old folks sing, and the young folks come. Free ticket and all the sights for nothing. All the allies will soon be dead, and secession too, and then there will be nothing worth seeing; but it will be the safest to come when secession are all dead.

Sargent is lieutenant of Co. G and A. B. Q. M.; also adjutant, and is capable of filling two or three more positions if I had them for him. King and Doty are well, and all the men of Co. G, except a few with the chills. The regiment is in good condition, very healthy, and all in the best of spirits and ready for anything that comes this way. My best wishes to all friends, hoping you will put H. L. Palmer and his associates in a position not to vote on any bill that will benefit the soldier or government. We want better men to look after us.

W. B. BRITTON.

Correspondence of the Gazette.

From the Thirteenth Regiment.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 31st, 1863.

Messrs. Editors: Time brings forth its changes, and much to our satisfaction, we find ourselves comfortably in camp on the north side of the Cumberland, at Nashville.

On our way by rail for this post, on reaching the up grade at the tunnel, engines were required to be doubled in order to reach the height of the grade, and consequently the rear engine was uncoupled and moved to the rear of the head train, and then fell back toward the rear train. Before taking place, an explosion of a torpedo took place underneath the track, throwing up the tender and dashing precipitately the engine from the rail into the water. A dozen of our boys were on the tender, and fortunately came out without any injury.

Evidently, it was the bashwacker's intention to intercept the train going south, on the downward grade, and throw it in a mass of ruin; but their object was not consummated, for this was not the engine that they supposed it was; that is used for the benefit of the trains on the grades, going up with one train, and alternately coming back with another.

The tender was rendered useless and was left beside the track. The damage to the road was repaired, and the engine was again placed on the track in good order, but needed repairing before using and was taken away by the first train, for that purpose.

After the escape of twenty-four hours, we were again moving at a rapid rate over the iron rail toward Nashville, where we arrived on the evening of the 27th inst., and on the following day entered upon the routine of post duty as usual.

The weather is unfavorable and rains are prevalent.

THE SALE OF A MILITARY RESERVATION AT PRAIRIE DU CHIEN.—Under the recent order authorizing the sale of the military reservation of Fort Crawford at Prairie du Chien, in this state, a contract has been made by the general land office for the survey of the reservation, consisting of 176 acres in the center of the city of Prairie du Chien. When the survey is completed the land is to be disposed of at public auction.

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE.

BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE,
Office in Union Passenger Depot.

Last Night's Report.

CAIRO, Nov. 5. The steamer J. D. Perry, from Memphis arrived this noon, with 430 bales of cotton, 700 green and dry hides, and dates to the 3d inst.

The Memphis bulletin of that evening says Gibson and Carroll counties are infected by a band of guerrillas. They went to the house of an old man named Yardell, in Gibson county, took all his horses, carried off the young stock, and all the clothing of his daughters. Yardell is a soldier of 1812, between 75 and 80 years old. At Millan they broke open stores, robbed them of money and goods, destroyed and plundered the house of Wm. Harris, an old man, carried away 100 bushels of corn, 1,000 pounds of fodder, and conscripted a young man too sick to carry a mule.

There is a rumor by passengers of fighting on the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, fifteen miles from Memphis, on the evening the boat left.

Forrest is reported there with 1,500 cavalry.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 5. Special to Chicago Tribune.—A general order was issued here this morning, prohibiting the sale of liquor to any soldiers in the city.

The trial of 100-pound Parrot guns near this city, today, resulted favorably. Almost all the shells exploded quite near the target, which was set up at a distance of about three miles.

Gov. Bramlette, of Kentucky, has issued a proclamation in regard to the draft. The quota, he says, will be 12,000 men.

St. Louis, Nov. 5.

Gen. Hutton, a rebel recruiting officer, was captured, while concealed in a hay stack, on election day, in Cooper county. He had enlisted 1,500 men for the southern army.

Returns from the interior come in slowly. The militia vote is nine-tenths radical, to the mortification of Gov. Gamble.

New York, Nov. 5.

By the arrival of the steamer Tobal Cain from St. Domingo we have the following intelligence:

The rebellion in St. Domingo was in full blast. The rebels held possession of the entire island with the exception of the capital and the east end. They were last reported within a few miles of St. Domingo.

Two recent victories are claimed by the Spanish near De La Mosa and Monte Plata, and in one engagement it was said one piece of artillery, many muskets, and numerous prisoners had been taken from the insurgents.

The captain general of St. Domingo had been removed, and Don Carlos De Bargas, a marshal of Spain, had been appointed in his place. He is said to be a man of great ability, and is expected to crush the rebellion promptly.

Memphis, Nov. 3.

Lieut. Col. Loomis and Major Herrod, of the 6th Illinois cavalry, had an altercation at the supper table last evening, at Germantown, Tennessee. Major Herrod fired four shots at Lieut. Col. Loomis as he left the table, killing him instantly.

Col. Hatch, of the 2d Iowa cavalry, drew his sabre upon the soldiers to prevent them from lynching Major Herrod on the spot. The remains of Lieut. Col. Loomis were brought to Memphis this evening. Major Herrod also came in iron.

A rebel force, reported to be 1,500 strong, made an attack upon Collierville this evening. Gen. Harburt's forces are moving to the support of the garrison there.

To-Day's Report.

(Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.)

MORNING DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.

Times special.—The mortality among our exchanged prisoners at Annapolis, and the too conclusive testimony of the barbarous usage of those in Richmond, have determined our government to apply coercive retaliation. The rebel government does not upon a concession treat our captured men according to the rules of war. Scarcely a day in Richmond may give color to the plea of insupportable necessity as an excuse for insufficient nourishment of our men. But if there is a design in this starvation, and the rebels mean to force us to return to the old system of exchange, which excludes officers of negro regiments and those of colored troops, they will not succeed. President Lincoln will not fail to protect black men who have taken up arms at his call, nor white men who command them. He will not entertain any proposition which seeks to establish distinctions between our white and black soldiers as prisoners of war.

The N. Y. Tribune has the following:

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

One full corps of Lee's army is reported this evening to be camped at Brandy Station, on the Orange and Alexandria railroad. We have stationed cavalry to watch the fords on the south side of the Rappahannock. Lee's headquarters are at Culpeper. Deserters report his army stretched from Culpeper to the heights of Fredericksburg, and numbers about 35,000 men of all arms.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.

Yesterday guerrillas made a raid upon an encampment about five miles from Alexandria, and captured several horses and mules. They again came into this neighborhood last night, and captured one man, who escaped after laying with them in the woods nearly all day. They talked in his presence about attacking some of the pickets, but the men failed to reach our pickets, and to give warning. These gangs are down toward Vienna, and have abandoned that neighborhood. Several days since they broke through our lines on our left and committed depredations in Prince William county during last few days. Yesterday Gen. Merritt sent out and summoned all the inhabitants in the vicinity of his command, and sent them to headquarters to be disposed of by the provost marshal.

Affairs at the front remain comparatively quiet. Yesterday a portion of the army moved down to the Rappahannock, and stationed pickets along the river. There are now no rebels this side of Rappahannock except a small force of cavalry between the railroad crossing and Falmouth. Most of Lee's army is believed to be near Culpeper. The impression prevails that the enemy will not make any decided stand this side of Rapidan should we advance.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

Progress of the Siege of Charleston.

The Richmond Examiner of Monday contains the following:

"CHARLESTON, Oct. 31.—The enemy's fire on Sumter last night continued furious and incessant from the land batteries. This morning, about 4 o'clock, a portion of the wall fell in, burying beneath the ruins some men, believed to be of the 12th Georgia, and 25th South Carolina regiments. Thirteen are missing.

"A second dispatch gives their names, and adds that they were buried by the falling in of the barracks on the sea face, where they had been placed in position for mounting the parapets in case of an assault.

"A fierce bombardment has been kept up all day on Sumter from the monitors and land batteries. Up to 3 o'clock this afternoon no further casualties have occurred. Over 1,200 shots were fired in twenty-four hours.

"CHARLESTON, Nov. 1.—The bombardment of Sumter continued without intermission last night and to-day. This afternoon the shot averaged four per minute. The firing has been from two monitors, two heavy and two light rifled guns at Fort Gregg; a 10-inch mortar at the Middle Battery, and four rifled guns at Wagner. On Saturday they fired 443 rifled shot—86 from the monitors, and 373 from mortars. The mortar fuses are cut so as to explode the shell in a second or two after the report. On Saturday night 70 rifled shots were fired and 33 mortar shells. The fire of the land batteries was directed chiefly at the southwest angle of the fort. The flagstaff was carried away twice, but speedily replaced. The flag was so cut to pieces that the battle flag of the 12th Georgia was raised instead. The casualties on Saturday were two killed and four wounded.

"The bombardment is still severe."

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.

The Washington correspondent of the Leader writes: "It is understood here that the orders to Gen. Gillmore and Dahlgren to continue the bombardment of Sumter until not a vestige of it remains, and with the artillery now employed against the fort, its total destruction is believed to be certain."

Dictionary of Ladies' Dress.

(Compiled by an old bachelor of forty years' experience.)

Gimp—A sort of nail used in their high-heeled boots, or something to do with the rim of a parasol—can't make out which.

Tickler—Shawls are usually made of this, and those lacy scarfs for evening dress. N. B.—It is called "tickler" when they like it best, though only sixpence a yard.

Cassels—Same as "lance woolsey." I think, a fine calf skin leather, for ornamenting riding habits. Note.—It has very sharp prickles, as I found once when I sat down on a bonnet made of it, mistaking the thing for a bunch of flowers.

Tulle—Not yet sure of this, but suspect it is the needle they use in backstitch. Mem. "Curtain of a bonnet" seems to have something to do with it.

Tuck—This is either a species of Scotch brooch, or a light ball ball, though I have heard it spoken of in relation a reticule for a picnic, with a scowdwick inside.

Bombazine—Much my wish about this. Four years ago, however, I asked myself if has something to do with baby's boots. Sometimes it is called a "love of a hare."

Bobbins—Only a little bobbin. Their workboxes are full of them. I once upset one.

Flounce—Every one knows what this is. It is put on gowns, and a new one is put on each year as the waster grows too tall for the former length.

Dimity—A regular poster this. Used to think it was a "finger stall," but have found out now it is a sort of ball put inside the back hair to fill it out. However, my piece, Miss Mary, aged "thirty" never mind, say positively, "No!"

Crinoline—Man's horror—woman's spher.

AN IMPORTANT CONFESSION—As rebel agents in England have asserted constantly that the rams being built by Laird and lately seized by order of Earl Russell, were not intended for the rebel service, nor for use against the United States, the admissions made in an article in the Richmond Examiner of October 27th are of some importance. That journal speaks of the seizure of the rams, without attempting to conceal that Mr. Laird was employed by Jeff. Davis to build them. It says:

"It will be bitter disappointment to the high hopes that had been formed of their efficiency and influence upon the fate of the war by the sanguine minds of our people, yet it admits of great doubt whether their importance to our cause was not very much overrated. Bright visions had been conjured up of the blockade broken, and the enemy's cities bombarded."

Judging from the light of past experience, as well as from a consideration of obvious importance at present, we cannot hope that any act of parliament will cause a release of the vessels. * * * It will be much more prudent to build no expectations of such a change, and to consider the ironclad fleet as among the things that, though brilliant in design, are never destined to completion."

These are important admissions. We hope Mr. Laird will be able to give an account in Parliament of his bargains with Jeff. Davis.

THE REMOVAL OF ROSECRANS.—The Nashville correspondent of the Missouri Democrat gives the following reasons for the removal of Rosecrans:

There was a necessity for calling a large part of Gen. Grant's army to the aid of Rosecrans' force, and as Grant would outrank him, and ill feeling had grown up between them out of the events of the battle of luka, in the fall of 1862, the former preferred not to serve under Gen. Grant. This is the most charitable view of the case, for all soundly loyal men would feel proud to serve the heart of a general as brave and sagacious as Rosecrans should deserve the censure of his government, or forfeit the great confidence of his countrymen voluntarily.

THE LATE VOTE IN PENNSYLVANIA.—There has been a heavy increase in the vote of Pennsylvania, as well as in Ohio. The earliest vote ever cast for governor, was in 1860, as follows:

|                   |         |
|-------------------|---------|
| Curtin            | 222,297 |
| Foster            | 220,260 |
| Total             | 442,557 |
| Curtin's majority | 32,138  |

This year the vote is:

|                        |         |
|------------------------|---------|
| Curtin                 | 269,496 |
| Woodward               | 254,171 |
| Total                  | 523,667 |
| Excess over 1860       | 31,008  |
| Curtin's majority 1863 | 15,525  |

Pennsylvania has sent 163,267 three years' men to the field since 1860, and yet her vote is 11,000 larger than at that time!

That Gov. Curtin is pre-eminently popular, is seen in the fact that he ran 3,017 ahead of Mr. Agnew, the Union candidate for supreme judge.

The Home League estimates that the amount of stock taken in the different railroads of this state, on account which farm mortgages now exist, will reach as high as $3,403,000.

ANOTHER VICTIM TO AFRICAN EXPLORATIONS.

Letters from Dr. Livingston, the well-known African explorer, dated March 25, announce the death of Mr. Richard Thornton, geologist of the expedition, of fever. Young Thornton was an enthusiast on the subject of African explorations. In company with an energetic Hanoverian traveler, Baron C. Von den Decker, he ascended the banks of the lofty, snow-capped mountain Kilimanjaro, making maps of that equatorial region, accompanied by geological notes. The body was buried about five hundred yards from the first crater. In a letter to Sir Roderick L. Murchison, Dr. Livingston alludes to the depopulation in the valley, and the scene of desolation around him. Dr. Kirk and Mr. Oberlin the Livingston would return to England. The Livingston expressed that Dr. Livingston will not expose his life to further risks, but come home to his motherless children and many friends.
